

Andrea Copeland

Andrea is the Director of Member Education Services, overseeing the Chamber's signature program, Leadership Charlottesville, as well as the Chamber Business Academy, and is the Chamber liaison for the Chamber Business Diversity Council and Leadership Charlottesville Alumni Association. Andrea is also the founder and president of Positive Channels, a company with a mission to use the power of all media for good. Through Positive Channels, she has interviewed, covered, worked with and met some high profile figures including President Obama, the Dalai Lama, Star Jones, Sean Penn, civil rights icons Ernie Green, Julian Bond, John Lewis, and more. A native of Charlottesville, Andrea graduated from Charlottesville High School and Piedmont Virginia Community College with an AS in Education. She went on to graduate from Old Dominion University with a BS in Human Services Counseling.

